Round Tables

The Middle East construction landscape is in the midst of a period of rapid change. From the burning issue of fire safety to the challenges facing Saudi Arabia to the adoption of PPP across the region, there are a number of hot topics confronting the industry. Construction Business News ME runs a series of agenda setting roundtable discussions to provide industry stakeholders with a forum to debate the challenges facing the construction industry today. Each discussion is followed by in-depth coverage in Construction Business Magazine ME.

Forums

If you want to meet a wish list of industry professionals to discuss matters relating to your core business activities, Construction Innovation Forum series will help you formulate market research, new business plans, or gauge industry sentiment on key issues that concern your business. The forums allow clients to sponsor a discussion, chaired by the moderator, with discussion points created by both parties, and the coverage printed in the magazine alongside your company branding.

Awards

The Construction Innovation Awards series first launched in Qatar in 2015 to great acclaim, followed by the UAE edition in 2016. In 2017, the series expanded to honor even more industry trailblazers across the GCC, steadily building its success and influence throughout the region ever since.
